PORTLAND, OREGON TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 4, 1873. NO 103

ALL ABOUT COOS BAY.

LES BILTON AND RESORTERS.

PACIFIC CITY, June 2, 1873.

Since my last communication the weather has been delightful. Gentle showers have occasionally fallen, succeeded by bright sunshine and cool nights. This is a most favorable time to visit this part of the coast, so as to see it to the best possible advantage. All nature is out in holiday dress, in bright and beautiful colors of almost every shade, that go to make the spring, summer and fall months of Oregon so enjoyable by settlers and attractive to visitors.

COOS BAY

Is a charming place at this season of the year. The variety, extent and beauty of the bay, and the surrounding scenery will attract visitors and travelers more and more every year as facilities for doing so increase and multiply, and as they become better known. The headlands are high and covered with the finest forest timber, interspersed with a profusion of wild flowers and almost every variety of berries in incredible quantities. The bay itself, when the tide is in, is perhaps as beautiful a sheet of water of the kind and to the extent as in the United States. The bay proper is thirteen miles long, and an average of one mile broad. At a number of places it is nearly two miles wide. This is not taking into account Coos river and the numerous sloughs, as large as ordinary rivers, that run into the bay. Salmon, trout, flounders, perch, herrings, smelts, sardines, crabs, cockles, clams and rock oysters are numerous in the bay and the rivers and creeks that run into it. Black and brown bear, elk, deer, pheasants, quail and partridge are to be found in considerable numbers in the forests that line the banks of the bay. The bays, rivers and sloughs are amply protected from high winds by the mountains and forests, as far down as Empire City, that afford as much as fifty miles of as safe and delightful boating, rowing or sailing as can be easily conceived. The atmosphere of the upper part of the bay is everything that can be desired for mildness. From Empire City to the bar, about five miles, the breeze from the Pacific ocean is felt in its invigorating and health-giving powers. The bay in the same direction is well adapted for retired and safe bathing. The ocean surf, from the bar to the mouth of the Umpqua, for sixteen miles along the beach, is grand and enjoyable; it is better suited for bathers of more courage and who love excitement than those who would prefer the quiet waters of the bay. It is just the place for a grand ocean view, healthful exercise, either walking or riding. The ocean is separated from the bay by a belt of sand three-quarters of a mile broad, that has to be crossed to reach the surf. The sand is firm, and makes a good preparatory walk before plunging into the refreshing and delightful waters of the Pacific Ocean.

The accommodations for visitors are complete and comfortable along the bay. The Central Hotel at Marshfield, at the entrance to the bay proper, kept by Sandford & Cheney, is large, neat and clean. An excellent table is provided that does credit to the proprietors and is a source of pleasure to visitors. Lockhart's Hotel at Empire City, nine miles down the bay, could not be easily excelled for conveniences, attentions and real comforts. The table is always provided with everything that is fresh and good to be had of fish, fish, fowl, and all the accompaniments that first-class cooks can devise, from milk and honey down to clams and cookies. Mr F. E. Lockhart is said to be on the fair way to make a fortune out of the black sands on the beach at the Randolph gold mines; for Mrs. Lockhart, she can keep a hotel with any lady on the Pacific coast, assisted as she is by four beautiful and accomplished daughters and a promising son.

The steamboat Satellite starts from Empire City every morning and runs to the Isthmus Slough, a distance of twenty miles; up Coos river twice a week eighteen miles, and returns every evening, for which only a dollar is charged for the round trip, or fifty cents each way. This boat connects with the horse-railroad that runs from the Isthmus Slough to the Coquille river, with the stage that runs from Roseburg to Coos City, and with the ocean steamer Eastport that runs from Coos Bay to San Francisco and way ports, which is a great convenience to the traveling public and to the different residents on the bay.

THE STEAMER EASTPORT

Is a new era in the history of Coos Bay, and of lasting importance to the development of its lumber and mineral resources, and the settlement of Coos county by industrious farmers. The steamer is owned by Howard & Pool of San Francisco, and runs from that port to Coos Bay, calling at way ports. Her timbers were all got from Coos county, prepared at Coos Bay, and shipped and put together at San Francisco, where her machinery was made and put in. She was built for the interest of the Eastport Coal Mine Company, from which she takes her name. She makes two trips in the month, takes about 450 tons of coal from the mine each time, such other freight as may offer, and quite a number of passengers. On her return trip from San Francisco, she brings general merchandise, and a large number of passengers. She has made six trips since she commenced running. Her passenger list from San Francisco averages thirty-five in the cabin and the same number in the steerage. For the former she charges $20, and for the latter $15. The saloon and cabins are very neat and comfortable, and an excellent table is provided. A competent Captain and polite officers enhance the safety and pleasure of the trip. She makes the trip from Coos Bay to San Francisco in two days, and the return one in three days. In the last up trip she had to contend with unusual strong head winds. The detention caused her to run short of coal and had to put back to San Francisco for a fresh supply. She got here safe on Wednesday evening and left for San Francisco this morning with a full cargo and a numerous passenger list of tourists and health seekers. The Eastport cost $75,000. The increasing demand in San Francisco for the Coos Bay coal, the large emigration coming in to settle in the country, and the additional merchandise required by the storekeepers on the bay are such as to induce Howard & Pool to build another and a larger steamer for the Coos Bay trade. This will enable the Company to dispatch a steamer once a week each way, which will be a matter of great importance to the coast, and of special value to Coos Bay, its growing trade and increasing population. Mr I. Schetter, of Eastport, is the agent of this Steamship Company for Coos Bay. Prompt attention to his business and politeness to travelers and visitors add much to the popularity of the line. There is no doubt but that this line of steamers will be well patronized by merchants, travelers and tourists, and by emigrants coming to settle in the country. It will be the favorite route for a large portion of the people of Southern Oregon many of the traveling public of the northern and western part of the State, and as a pleasant and desirable way of coming to or going to San Francisco from April to November. The rooms on the bay are the most numerous not large, but they are full of interest as centers of industry and the indicators of progress and prosperity.

MARSHFIELD

Is located at the entrance to the bay proper, Coos river, the Isthmus and other sloughs as large as ordinary rivers, run into the bay at this place, making it a desirable place for trade. E. D. Dean & Co., S. Labree and N. Nasbury are the leading merchants of the town, who do a large and profitable business. The former firm, in addition to their large and elegant store, have purchased the saw mill formerly owned by John Proshbaker, that now cuts 21,000 feet of lumber in twelve hours, and will soon be increased to a capacity of 10,000 feet. They own the tug-boat Escort, one of the finest models and most efficient boats of the size and kind on the Pacific coast. She was built in the shipyard of the firm and is the admiration of visitors and the pride of the bay. The extensive works of this firm are attracting a large population to the place. The increase will be on a much larger scale as times improve. Eight new houses are being built, that are the first fruits of what progress is in store for Marshfield. The Central Hotel is the favorite house for visitors. The present population is about 200.

NORTH BEND

Is owned entirely by A. M. Simpson & Co., who have their head office in San Francisco. It is the central town of the bay, is admirably sheltered, and is a point of rare beauty, industry and enterprise. The Messrs. Simpsons are the pioneer saw-millers and ship-builders on the bay. The establishment, in all its departments, satisfies the most superficial observer that its owners and managers are men of master minds. The saw mill cuts an average of 28,000 feet of lumber daily. Since 1858 the firm have built fourteen vessels, from 150 to 600 tons burden, and the fifteenth one, of 1,000 tons capacity—the largest and best ever built on the bay—is on the stocks, and will be ready for sea in August—making an average of one vessel built by them every year since they commenced the business. Twenty-five men are employed in connection with the saw mill, and about the same number in the ship-building department. The population of the place is a little over 100. The most ample and complete arrangements are made for the comfort of the men, and neat cottages are provided for men with families. The large store provides for all the wants of residents, log camps and neighboring settlers. No strong drinks are sold in the town. Liberal wages are paid, and every encouragement held out to men of good habits, reliable character and fitness for the work.

EMPIRE CITY

Is situated within five miles of the bar, and is the first point reached after entering the Bay from the ocean. It is not so well sheltered as Marshfield and North Bend. The atmosphere is keener, but it has all the advantages of the bracing atmosphere from the Pacific Ocean., which to many constitutions is life and health, vigor and energy. H. H. Luse, George Cammann and D. Morse, Jr., are the principal merchants, and conduct an extensive and growing business. Mr. Luse is the owner of the sawmill of the place; it cuts 16,000 feet of lumber in a day. He intends building a mill this summer that will cut 30,000 feet daily. This being the first point reached by vessels and steamers, entering the Bay from the ocean, makes it a place of great interest to visitors, of considerable excitement and activity among shippers, and extensive business operations among merchants and hotel keepers. The population is at least 200. It is the place where the Circuit Court holds, and is the residence of a worthy Methodist preacher, who shows the usual zeal of this class of men in doing good missionary work in the towns and settlements on the Bay. The stores are large, the merchants are honorable and successful, the private residences are neat and the people are intelligent and refined. There are ample accommodations for visitors. Mrs. Lockhart's hotel is a comfortable home for travelers. This town, in common with the whole Bay, is bound to make good progress, as soon as the pressure is removed from the money market. Then a spring-tide of improvements and enterprises will set in on Coos Bay that will be profitable to all classes.

NORTHWEST.

THE TERRITORIES.

Trouble seems to be brewing with the siwashes in Butter Root Valley.

Judge Lewis and the Walla Walla lawyers have gone to Colville to hold court.

A lucky Montanian writes home from South Africa that he found a $20,000 diamond.

The epizooty has developed itself in a mild form among the railroad stock at Tenino.

The house and furniture of Mr. L. P. Berry, of Walla Walla, were destroyed by fire a few days ago.

From the northern papers we see that wages at Missoula, Montana, are from $4 50 to $5 00 per day.

A camp meeting is to be held ten miles from Walla Walla, at the mouth of Kouse creek, commencing June 12th.

A female lawyer in Wyoming Territory argued a case wherein her husband was the defendant, and she carried it against him.

A little child of Mr. Henry Jarrett, of Walla Walla Valley, was so badly burned last week that it only survived the catastrophe a few hours.

In Arizona there are 2,698 children over six and under twenty-one years, but only 550 attended public and private schools during the past year.

The Quin river Indians are showing signs of hostilities, and declare that rather than go on a reservation they will crawl on their bellies and eat grass.

The legal dead-lock still continues in Utah and the criminals escape by challenging the jury on the ground that the Mormon Marshal is not a legal officer.

The Salt Lake Tribune has opened a Libel Suit Department in its columns, in which it publishes all matter pertaining to the various actions commenced against it for libel.

Denver boasts of having more churches to the square inch of piety than any other city in the country. Corinne can beat that. She has all piety, and not enough churches to hold it.

Western papers tell of the Reverend Judge Kenard, a full blooded Indian, who holds court every day and preaches in the Baptist Church every night at Taskeetown, Indian Territory. This is not the ordinary Kanard of the Western newspapers.

At a meeting of the Directors of the N. P. R. R., lately held in New York, it was decided to change the name of Edwinton, the promising town at the Missouri crossing of the road, to that of "Bismarck." It is reported that a daily paper is soon to be issued from there, and that the material is already on the way.

Puget Sound and British Columbia are developing into great stock markets for the stock raised on the east side of the Cascades, on both sides of the Columbia. On the 25th ult., there was a stock train of ten cars dispatched to Tenino, composed of 165 steers and 400 muttons, intended mostly for Victoria, B. C.

Mr. A. Billingsby writes from Mixed to the effect that a band of about 30 Fort Hall Indians had made their appearance on his ranch and demanded food. He told them if they would move off his meadow he would give them a beef. This they did, he furnished them a beef, which did not suit them, and they demanded a larger one, which he had to give them. Mr. Billingsby says the Indians have been very much encouraged over by the Interior Department to the Texas and Modocs; and a similar course may be pursued with the principal Modocs, namely: Remit them to the State of Oregon for trial and punishment.

EASTERN STATES.

Henry Ward Beecher's Card.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The following was published today:

To the Editor of the Brooklyn Eagle—Dear Sir: I have maintained silence respecting slanders which have for some time past followed me. I should not speak now but for the sake of relieving another of unjust imputations. The document which was recently published bearing my name, with those of others, was published without consultation either with me or with Mr. Tilton, nor with any authorization from us. If that document should lead the public to regard Mr. Tilton as the author of the calumnies to which it alludes it will do him great injustice. I am now willing he should even seem responsible for the injurious statements, whose force was deprived wholly from others. (Signed)

HENRY WARD BEECHER.

P. M. S. S. Affairs.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Three of the late directors of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company say that the recent report of the affairs of that company was framed by the late President Stockwell, on his own responsibility, and they ask the present board to publish a correct statement.

Account of the Vienna Scandal.

NEW YORK, June 3.—W. J. Stillman, writing to the Tribune from Vienna, gives a lengthy circumstantial account of irregularities charged against ex-Commissioner Van Buren in connection with concessions for saloons, restaurants, &c., in the Department of the Exposition building. From this account it seems that the charges against Van Buren and his Secretary Meyers, were all true, and that parties were not only required to make large gifts to both to secure concessions was granted, but several were mulcted the right to keep drinking saloons were charged to sign an agreement to divide the profits. Meyers demanded 10 per cent. of all the profits from Jewell, one of the New York parties who purchased a right to an restaurant.

A Remarkable Action.

It is reported this afternoon, on good authority, that McDonald, Bank of England Agent, was taken direct from the United States Circuit Court, in Fort Osborne, so as to avoid the service of any writ he counsel might obtain. He will, it is said, be taken to Hudson Bay Company's Steamer at Pembina.

Fire in Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 2.—A fire this afternoon destroyed two-thirds of Gidding's block, No. 266 Wabash avenue, together with the stock of J. Hubbard & Co., furniture dealers. Total loss about $120,000. Insurance, $75,000 in Western companies.

Credit Mobilier Suit.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 2.—The Credit Mobilier bill in equity has been ... ended by including the ... of Andrew Carnegie, J. Fisher, John Fowler, of New York, and Hon. ... Scott, of Pennsylvania, as additional defendants with Oakes Ames, of North Easton, Mass., and Henry S. Rowell, of New Haven, as hereafter shared in the profits realized from the sale of bridge ...

Another C. M. Suit.

Lucy D. ... executrix of Jas. Fisk, Jr., has begun what is essentially a new suit against the Union Pacific Railroad Company and Credit Mobilier of America, including Governor Dix, George Opdyke and others.

Fire Regular Murder.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Frank H. Walworth, aged 19, shot and killed his father, Mansfield Walworth, Sturtevant House, this morning. Dec. 1st was a well-known author. He boarded in the Sturtevant House with his family. Domestic trouble is ... assigned as the cause of the tragedy. Young Walworth, who lives at Saratoga, directly on the shooting went to the 20th precinct police station and surrendered.

RICHMOND, Va., June 3.—A negro was murdered in Brunswick county Saturday, making the tenth murder in the State in two weeks.

Miscellaneous.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The jury rendered a verdict today that the killing of Mrs. Broderick by her son was an accident, but censure him for carrying concealed weapons. Both young Broderick and Coroner Acre are exonerated by the Judge who discharged Broderick and held Corcoran for trial on a charge of fighting and cause ... ness.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 2.—In the Supreme Court today the Attorney General filed an application for a writ of quo warranto against Governor Baxter to show by what authority he holds the office of Governor.

CANADA.

HAMILTON, Ont., June 3.—The night express train on the Great Western Railway ran off the track at Copetown this morning. Twenty-five passengers were injured. Seventeen of them proceeded on the journey and eight remained at the hotel.

MEXICO.

SAN DIEGO, June 3.—The Union's special from Urea says:

"The Steamer with the ... of Sonora complains of not receiving arms, ammunition or pay for the soldiers to protect the frontier against the Apaches for months past. Twelve hundred Indians, armed and protected by the United States Government, make raids on Sonora, and Crook and Howard are powerless on account of Howard's treaty."

LONDON, June 3.—There was a great Trades Union demonstration in Hyde Park yesterday to protest against the law which unfairly and unjustly affects the interests and rights of labor. There were 30,000 present. The meeting was successful.

Spanish Affairs

LONDON, June 3.—A letter to the Morning Post says Don Carlos has ordered Dorregary to release on parole all Republican prisoners in his hands. Carlist officers formally running away from Vitoria and the frontier. The mails are sent around by sea.

A special cipher to the London Times from Paris, says the Minister of the Interior has sent circulars to Prefects of Departments inviting the union of all good citizens in support of order, and advocating the energetic maintenance of conservative principles as the only means of the restoration of the country.

Steamship Wrecked.

LONDON, June 3.—The steamship Drummond Castle, of this city went on to Chimon Island, off the east coast of China and is a total wreck. Thirty persons were drowned.

A Terrible Tale.

A dispatch from Shanghai gives some particulars of the capture by Chinese forces of Talleefoo, in the Province of Yunnan, South Western China. It says the victorious forces fell upon their captives and murdered thirty thousand. The Sultan poisoned himself rather than fall into the hands of his enemies.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—The Board of Supervisors last night passed the ordinance requiring the head of all prisoners to the County Jail to be shaved.

George W. Duncan was arrested a few days since for forging a post office money order. Yesterday he confessed the crime and will be indicted by the United States grand jury.

The Board of Supervisors has ordered an investigation into the affairs of the County Recorder's office.

The Mechanics Institute elected the following named directors: P. B. Cornwall, Richard Savage, J. C. Patrick, Charles Elliott, J. H. Macdonald, J. P. Curtis and H. W. Jones.

The House Carpenters' League has joined the People's Anti Chinese Protective Alliance.

The main question settled by the Democratic primaries yesterday was that the new County Committee shall be composed of delegates from the convention.

A three story building on Dupont street, between Washington and Jackson, occupied by Hughes & Hinckley, was burned this morning. Loss $40,000.

At the annual meeting of the Regents of the State University yesterday afternoon a resolution passed appropriating $500 per month as salaries for the President during the present year. Samuel Jones was appointed Professor of Military Science, salary $1,000 per annum. D. C. Legau, of Sacramento, was invested to act as Professor of Materia Medica in the Hygienic Department. Dr. Shurtleff, of Medical Jurisprudence. Dr. A. B. Stout of surgery, and Dr. Hatch of the chemistry, of Medical Colleges companies are much concerned about the recent ... lake ... and the Chinese, and some of them say if the Supervisors would form a town by themselves beyond the limits of the city if they could be protected there. EASTERN DATES TO JUNE 3.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Civil Services

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The statement that the Board of Examiners of the Treasury Department had resigned on account of failure of the system of open competition is pronounced unfounded. On the contrary they say the system has proved successful, and especially in regard to original appointments, and the Board so stated in their recent report to the Advisory Board. The character and ability of persons appointed to $1,200 clerkships from examinations are admitted by all heads of bureaus and others to be very superior and the success of such examinations for $900 clerkships was more marked.

Concerning Captain Jack and Others.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The question as to what shall be done with Captain Jack and his followers, is being privately discussed in military and civil circles. All seem to be agreed, that as the Modocs surrendered as prisoners of war, it is not to be expected that they shall be punished by the army, which, for the present, will hold them in custody until further orders. General Davis will, doubtless, report the facts to headquarters of the army, and ask for instructions in the premises. A communication will be sent to the Department of the Interior, as it would in such cases. The Indian murders have been committed while the Department, through its agents, was attempting to carry out the peace policy—the army serving only as an aid for this purpose. The entire subject will probably be submitted to the President and the Department for final determination. Captains and Big Tree were turned over by the Interior Department to the Texas authorities; and a similar course may be pursued with the principal Modocs, namely: Remit them to the State of Oregon for trial and punishment.

EASTERN STATES.

Henry Ward Beecher's Card.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The following was published today:

To the Editor of the Brooklyn Eagle—Dear Sir: I have maintained silence respecting slanders which have for some time past followed me. I should not speak now but for the sake of relieving another of unjust imputations. The document which was recently published bearing my name, with those of others, was published without consultation either with me or with Mr. Tilton, nor with any authorization from us. If that document should lead the public to regard Mr. Tilton as the author of the calumnies to which it alludes it will do him great injustice. I am now willing he should even seem responsible for the injurious statements, whose force was derived wholly from others. (Signed)

HENRY WARD BEECHER.

P. M. S. S. Affairs.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Three of the late directors of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company say that the recent report of the affairs of that company was framed by the late President Stockwell, on his own responsibility, and they ask the present board to publish a correct statement.

Account of the Vienna Scandal.

NEW YORK, June 3.—W. J. Stillman, writing to the Tribune from Vienna, gives a lengthy circumstantial account of irregularities charged against ex-Commissioner Van Buren in connection with concessions for saloons, restaurants, &c., in the Department of the Exposition building. From this account it seems that the charges against Van Buren and his Secretary Meyers, were all true, and that parties were not only required to make large gifts to both before concession was granted, but several were mulcted the right to keep drinking saloons were charged to sign an agreement to divide the profits. Meyers demanded 10 per cent. of all the profits from Jewell, one of the New York parties who purchased a right to an restaurant.

A Remarkable Action.

It is reported this afternoon, on good authority, that McDonald, Bank of England Agent, was taken direct from the United States Circuit Court, in Fort Osborne, so as to avoid the service of any writ he counsel might obtain. He will, it is said, be taken to Hudson Bay Company's Steamer at Pembina.

Fire in Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 3.—A fire this afternoon destroyed two-thirds of Gidding's block, No. 266 Wabash avenue, together with the stock of J. Hubbard & Co., furniture dealers. Total loss about $120,000. Insurance, $75,000 in Western companies.

Credit Mobilier Suit.

HARTFORD, Conn., June 2.—The Credit Mobilier bill in equity has been ... ended by including the ... of Andrew Carnegie, J. Fisher, John Fowler, of New York, and Hon. ... Scott, of Pennsylvania, as additional defendants with Oakes Ames, of North Easton, Mass., and Henry S. Rowell, of New Haven, as hereafter shared in the profits realized from the sale of bridge ...

Another C. M. Suit.

Lucy D. ... executrix of Jas. Fisk, Jr., has begun what is essentially a new suit against the Union Pacific Railroad Company and Credit Mobilier of America, including Governor Dix, George Opdyke and others.

Fire Regular Murder.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Frank H. Walworth, aged 19, shot and killed his father, Mansfield Walworth, Sturtevant House, this morning. Dec. 1st was a well-known author. He boarded in the Sturtevant House with his family. Domestic trouble is ... assigned as the cause of the tragedy. Young Walworth, who lives at Saratoga, directly on the shooting went to the 20th precinct police station and surrendered.

RICHMOND, Va., June 3.—A negro was murdered in Brunswick county Saturday, making the tenth murder in the State in two weeks.

Miscellaneous.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The jury rendered a verdict today that the killing of Mrs. Broderick by her son was an accident, but censure him for carrying concealed weapons. Both young Broderick and Coroner Acre are exonerated by the Judge who discharged Broderick and held Corcoran for trial on a charge of fighting and cause ... ness.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., June 2.—In the Supreme Court today the Attorney General filed an application for a writ of quo warranto against Governor Baxter to show by what authority he holds the office of Governor.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 4 1873

"Unnecessary Trouble

Under this head the Bulletin discusses in its peculiar vein, the proceedings of the City Republican Committee What those proceedings were will be seen by reference to the official report which we publish in another column of this paper It certainly requires wonderful sagacity to discern in anything done by the Committee, anything to excite either alarm or anger, and yet the Bulletin manifests both to a very high degree We have carefully studied the brief report of the Committee's meetings, to find, if possible, what it is that so exercises our neighbor, and have utterly failed to find anything that seems to us sufficient to disturb the equanimity of the most delicately organized person in the world

But in its excitement the Bulletin overdraws the facts very considerably At the City Convention, two years ago, there was appointed a City Committee, consisting of three persons from each of the three wards These persons were L H Wakefield, W W Spaulding and C Bills of the First Ward, Josiah Failing, O B Gibson and C W. Parrish of the Second Ward, James Lotan, A G Walling and A J Marshall of the Third Ward. Of this Committee, L. H Wakefield was made chairman This is the exact state of the facts, taken from the official report of the proceedings of the Convention.

Not liking the make-up of this committee, probably, the Bulletin says there was another committee appointed by the same convention, consisting of W. W. Spaulding, James Lotan and Josiah Failing, which by some sort of over-and-under performance, is to be considered as possessing powers superior to those of the larger committee. The official report of the proceedings of the convention shows that there is not the shadow of a foundation for this statement. The Secretary of the convention, to whose report we refer to, was Mr. O B. Gibson, who certainly would not be accused of making an untruthful report against the interest of the persons who now claim his report to be incorrect. We repeat, there is not the slightest foundation for the statement of our contemporary. However innocently this mistake may have crept into the Bulletin, it is a mistake that has not the least semblance of fact.

It is evident that the persons named by the Bulletin as this extra committee Messrs. Failing, Spaulding and Lotan—do not regard themselves as such committee, for they have all been present at and acting at both meetings with the real city committee of nine, who were regularly appointed. It is somewhat remarkable, if so important a committee has any existence, that even the members of it should have remained ignorant of its existence.

But notwithstanding the facts as they appear in the official report of the convention of 1871, and notwithstanding their participation in the proceedings of this regular committee, Mr. Jos. Lotan and Mr. W. W. Spaulding have taken it upon themselves to run the campaign without consulting the other seven members of the Committee, and have issued a call for primaries "on their own hook." This call they issued within two hours after they left the Committee room of the true Committee while they had just voted to adjourn, to meet at the call of the Chairman. Thus a minority of only two members of the Committee, doubtless supposing they had reason to fear they would be unable to lead the majority into the adoption of some favorite scheme of theirs, have usurped the powers of the whole Committee and issued their manifesto. A cooler piece of impudence than this we do not recollect ever to have seen. The conduct of these two individuals can not be characterized as anything less than bolting the proceedings and legitimate authority of the party. The Committee's action has been in all particulars strictly in accordance with the unvarying usage of the party, as it has been practiced always, and this attempt of these two persons to thwart the will of the party, if persisted in, can not but result in nothing else by setting up still further divisions and factions than now so unfortunately exist in our ranks. We hope the people generally will see the hurtfulness of this wholly irregular proceeding and recall their manifesto.

One of those queer cases wherein the carelessness of the clerk and havoc of law, appeared in New York a few days since. An indictment having been brought against one Georg F. Durning, charging him with embezzlement of money belonging to the sub-Treasury in New York city, in argument on demurrer, Mayor Hall, for the defence, contended that the indictment was drawn under the statute of 1828, which had been repealed by a blunder of the Clerk. It had been intended, —the Mayor, to repeal that part of the act which related to copyright, but, by an error of the clerk who drew the bill, the whole act was repealed and so passed Congress. The District Attorney admitted that a blunder had been made, but he said Attorney-General Williams had decided that, as the intention was only to repeal the copyright clauses, the remainder of the act was still in force. There are several cases in similar plight, It is said that none will be filed until the Forty-third Congress shall have remedied the blunder.

The Bulletin thinks it looks like Democracy for the OREGONIAN to ridicule the corporal's guard of office holders who met at Armory Hall last Saturday evening, at the call of nobody in particular, and assumed to be the whole Republican party. How does it look for the so-called Republicans, whose organ is the Bulletin, to be daily in close consultation with many prominent Democrats upon the best method of running the politics of the city?

Ex-Senator Pomeroy is a fellow of infinite cheek. In passing through St. Louis the other night, he informed a reporter that he would at once inaugurate the campaign for the Senatorship left vacant by the resignation of Caldwell. He has long since been acquitted of all guilty intention in the bribery business, on the ground of insanity.

Having gone to the meeting called by nobody and instructed themselves to call primaries without waiting for the Republican Committee to act in the premises, Lotan and Spaulding have proceeded to obey their own orders, and issued the call So far as authority is concerned, it is nobody's call again.

Shaftsburg, Vermont, lays claim to the meanest man in the United States He presented some chairs to the pastor of a Methodist church, afterwards charged them to him, and on payment being refused, swore out an attachment against his body and now talks about sending him to jail

Another Trick that Does not Win.

The card of B Goldsmith, Esq., President of the Willamette River Transportation Company, published a few days since indicates the kind of opposition this Company has to meet in its efforts to keep freights down to living rates We know nothing whatever in regard to the correctness of Mr Goldsmith's information as to the person employed in circulating the report alluded to, and are disposed to accept the disavowal of Mr Ides as a finality so far as he is concerned It is of little consequence who circulates the report, the wrong is that it is circulated at all.

This is a specimen of the sort of means resorted to by interested parties to injure the opposition line of boats now plying on the Willamette river When the new Company was organized, it was announced through the new-paper published by the railway Company, as a mere empty scheme that had been originated for the purpose of present effect upon the public mind Then when the Company proceeded to build and put upon the river a first class boat, and reduced the freight tariff to about half the rates charged before that time, a person went through the valley and endeavored to intimidate the shippers of grain from shipping by the new line, by telling them the opposition had no backing and could not last but a short time, that as soon as it was withdrawn the shippers would be wholly in the power of the railway company, and that in that event those who patronized the opposition could be ruined by invidious discriminations. This was tried upon a number of leading shippers, whom we could name, but it was at once seen by them to be a mere fetch, and consequently it proved a signal failure. The farmers and local dealers persisted in shipping by the new line in spite of all threats. Then came a maneuver that was to carry the trade all over to the railway company. Owning the old line of boats as well as the railway, a tariff of freights was adopted whereby all freight on the river was to be carried, no matter from what point, to Portland at one dollar per ton This was the stroke that was to be the coup de grace to the opposition. But the people, remembering the burdens from which they had so recently been relieved by this new line of boats, and reasoning correctly that to drive this line from the river by refusing to patronize it, would place them again at the mercy of a company that had shown itself merciless, still brought their produce to the wharves of the new company. The main season for freighting had passed, but there was still a large amount of produce awaiting shipment, and the bulk of this was handled by the new company. So the old company went back to its old tariff.

The last resort is that of direct misrepresentation. It will succeed just as well as the shifts and artifices that have preceded it, and not any better. We have nothing beyond the good of the public at heart in commenting upon the manner in which the opposition on the river has been assailed in the interest of the railway company. It is essential to the prosperity of the country penetrated by these lines of transportation that the freighting business be not controlled by a single Company. It is essential that the cheapest transportation that the river is capable of affording be furnished to the producers. It is essential that the great natural highway of the commerce of the valley shall not be closed up in order that the more expensive means of carrying freights offered by the railway may be profitable to it's owners. Those who would drive away the opposition line are pursuing a policy that is calculated, if successful, to bring great profit to themselves, and are therefore doing only what is to be expected—except when they use deception to accomplish their object, but they cannot be considered the friends of the producers, or of the general prosperity of the country.

The Boston Advertiser says that an important and interesting decision, especially to postmasters and lawyers, was made by Judge Clark in the United States Circuit Court at Portsmouth on Monday. Michael McGlynn of Nashua was charged in an indictment with forging a "money order" and a "material signature" thereto, and was placed upon trial on this indictment. Judge Clark decided that the signing a forged signature to the words "Received the above," at the bottom of the order, was not a forgery of a "money order," nor of a "material signature" to said "money order," but was the forgery of a money order receipt, or the forgery of a "material signature" to a money order receipt, and consequently was not an offense against the statute of July 27, 1863, section 5. The jury were instructed to acquit McGlynn and did so.

Here is a certificate to the fact that the good old customs of yore have not altogether passed away. Says a New Castle, Delaware, paper. "Yesterday (May 17th) was whipping-day in the city. The following persons were flogged. Hamilton Curtis, James Reed, John Mannering, George Taylor, Elijah and John Fergus and James Collins, each for larceny Granville Hudson stood in the pillory for an hour for cutting his wife's throat, this being a part of his sentence "

A London dispatch says that Mr Bradlaugh, the English Liberal editor, and member of Parliament, while on his way to Madrid to present the English resolutions congratulating Spain on the establishment of the republic, was taken prisoner by the Carlists, and carried to the headquarters of the insurgent chieftain, Saballo but was soon afterward released.

Two hundred and fifty gentlemen of New York city have subscribed $100 each toward securing a sitting statue of Mr Seward, in bronze, which is to be placed in Central Park. Mr Randolph Rogers, one of the most successful of American sculptors, is charged with the execution of the work

A Washington special says that Postmaster-General Creswell has examined the postal code to see if it would admit of the free transmission of newspaper exchanges, and of newspapers published within the county of delivery, and has arrived at an adverse conclusion

A New Haven paper says that as the new governor and the lieutenant-governor were graduated at Yale, its entire corporation is now composed of alumni—an unusual occurrence Fourteen of the classes of forty-one years, ending with 1860, are represented.

It is reported that Mr. Secretary Richardson has actually "put his foot down" in making the Department regulation that hereafter no family shall have more than one representative at a time in the Treasury Department

The lower House of the Connecticut Legislature has adopted the bill locating the State capital at Hartford, and the amendment will now go to the people for ratification.

The Successor to Chief Justice Chase

We find the following letter in the Tribune of May 24th

FOR THE ARTA Without speaking in disparagement of the claims of many distinguished and able jurists for the position made vacant by the death of Chief Justice Chase from a sense of duty we feel called upon to say that Attorney-General Williams is in every respect a proper man for the place, and his course in life, both private and public has been such as to inspire confidence in the highest degree

George H Williams, when but a boy moved from his native State, New York, to the State of Iowa He there, when very young, became a District Judge, which position he occupied to the entire satisfaction of the public and bar for several years He after this, was appointed by President Pierce as one of the District Judges in and for the Territory of Oregon, and here formed one of the Supreme Court He did much in this and other public capacities in Oregon both before it was a State and since to give shape to its laws His opinions were always able and they now stand in that State as monuments of legal acumen and ability After leaving the Bench, he again entered upon the practice of his profession, in which he continued for some years before he was elected United States Senator, and as such, stood as one of, if not the foremost members of the Bar He was then elected United States Senator from Oregon, and the able manner in which he discharged the duties of this office is too well known to the country to need comment from us After the expiration of his term of six years, he was appointed to the office of United States Attorney-General, which he now holds.

His natural ability, together with a high order of integrity, taken in conjunction with his knowledge of law, cannot but commend him to the appointment, especially with the people of the West, with whom his early manhood has been most spent, and with whose laws, institutions and habits he is familiar.

The writer pays no unmerited compliment to the ability of Judge Williams.

A few days since we referred to Mr. Philadelph Van Trump's attitude on the subject of back pay. Now comes the Ohio State Journal with a series of interesting articles on the subject "Van Trumpery" The Journal quotes this passage from Van T 's letter to his constituents.

I felt a high and controlling sense of duty in whatever I did from its inception to its close I could not bring myself to feel it to be consistent either with propriety or duty, at the very close of a term of Congress of two years, by my own vote, to "put money in my purse," against the will of my constituents There was perhaps no man in that Congress who needed money more than I did, but I have not yet come to the conclusion to abandon the consoling idea that there yet remains in this world of ours, bad as it is, something which is still better than money, an approving conscience and a sense of duty honestly performed.

"And then," adds the Journal, "having discharged himself in manner and form as aforesaid, and got his name on the list of the immortal few who refused the money, Van Trump went and drew his $5,000 back salary like a little man, and went into retirement like Cicero at Tusculum. Poor Trump!"

A Washington special says [counsel for defendants in the Credit Mobilier suit will, in a few weeks, demur to the bill in equity, taking the ground that the act under which the bill is drawn, is unconstitutional, and that Congress cannot enact for the benefit of the Government, what is denied to individual suitors, that the act is an indirect violation of existing laws, under which defendants have the right to ask protection, and until they are placed on equality with plaintiffs there can be no equitable proceedings. This, it is said, will carry the case to the Supreme Court, and it is admitted that the objection may quash further proceedings. The defendants are confident that the suit will amount to nothing more than heavy fees and costs against the Government.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JUNE 4, 1873.

CITY.

THE CLACKAMAS BRIDGE.—The contract for rebuilding of the Clackamas bridge, which was swept away about two years ago dur ing a freshet, will probably be let in a few days The work received by Deputy Sheriff Beatty, of Clackamas county, on Monday for the rebuilding of the structure. A proposition was submitted by Capt. Smith offered to perform the neces sary work for the sum of $3,850 According to the plans, the main span of the bridge would be 200 feet, and the entire length of the structure 304 feet. Another bid was made by Mr. Elliman for the sum of $5,100. Mr Ellman pro poses what is known as the Smith Truss plan. The main span of this bridge, inclusive of the aprons, will be 218 feet. There was con siderable competition among the bidders. These were reviewed by the Deputy Sheriff, are to be referred to the County Court of Clackamas county for them to decide in the matter. Each of the plans submitted will be carefully examined by the court and cheapest one adopted and the contract awarded.

BEEF AND BUTTER.—That Oregon cows are not excelled in the quality and quantity of the milk they yield gives, may be inferred from the following paragraph: Mr. J. E. C. Dugan who has a ranch on Government Island, some eight miles from this city, obtained from one cow in one week 14 pounds of butter. The cow was fed on ground feed and native grass. She was milked three times a day, and the actual weight of 14 milkings was 353 pounds. On the following week, the animal was fed exclusively on grass, and during that time 16½ pounds of butter was obtained, or nearly one pound of but ter for two gallons of milk. The aggregate weight of 14 milkings amounted to 356 pounds. Mr. Dugan is of the opinion that the above has never been excelled or surpassed by any other cow in the world, and if any one possesses a cow which can beat this, we should be gratified to hear of it.

SUPREME MOMENT.—This mail arrived here last evening from the Dalles by the steamer. He was accompanied to Lewiston on a requisition from Gov. Grover, on a charge of having killed Jacob Smith in Washington county about two years ago. He was brought to this city in custody of Wm. Cummins, and will be taken to Washington county where he is to stand trial on that grave charge. He had been in jail at the Circuit Court which has been in session for several weeks at Hillsboro, but the case was called probably not arrive for some time, as it is not on that report, court adjourned for the term to-day. It is not improbable that a special term may be called.

SOME INJURED CAPTURED.—Yesterday two Indians were brought down from the Dalles to Vancouver on the steamer Emma Hayward. Those fellows, it seems, stole a horse from the farm of a man residing in Clarke county. The owner of the lost animal had his suspicions as to who the perpetrators were. He kept a watch-ward, until he heard of the thieves' whereabouts, and started off at once. They were arrested at a place above the Cascades, brought down, and will probably be tried.

MR. FOWLER'S LECTURE.—A large audience assembled at the Yamhill Hall last evening at Prof. Fowler's lecture on the subject of "Intellect, Memory, Culture." To-morrow afternoon, at just 3 o'clock, he will lecture to ladies exclusively, on the subject of "Female Health and Beauty." In the evening, commencing at 8 o'clock, he will lecture on the subject of "Men and Women; Their Positions and Functions," illustrated by appropriate Fowler models.

THE FENCE.—The iron fence which is intended to surround the steam wall around the Court House block, has been completed on the western and most of the northern side. This fence is of very ornamental design and promises to be a handsome one. When the wall is finished and surmounted by the iron fence, the general appearance of the block on which the Court House is situated will be greatly improved.

SOME IDEA.—How is this? A Chicago paper says that Portland, Oregon, has a difficulty which is going to hinder its growth in turning out railroad iron. We don't believe we suppose it is news to our readers. The story probably originated because at that quantities of railroad iron have been shipped here many times ago from Portland to be sent to San Francisco by sea.

PORTLAND.—The Sunday school picnic of the Presbyterian Church was to have held at Oswego to-morrow; but in view of the threatening condition of the weather it will be held next Saturday next. On that day, if nothing occurs to fail, the steamer Annie Stewart will leave the wharf, at the foot of Alder street, at 9 o'clock A. M., with the excursionists.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL To-night.—The ladies of the Christian Church will give a strawberry festival at the church to-night. By the well established merit of these entertainments, the refreshments of the season, and by other favorable signs, on occasion of profitable enjoyment is hardly to be anticipated by those who attend the festival this evening.

A RETURN.—A Mrs. Hannah Bush was before Judge Hamilton yesterday on a charge of insanity. The unfortunate woman has a husband and an order authorizing her to be sent to the Asylum. She was removed thither this morning. Mrs. Bush, we learn, has been insane for several years to periodical attacks.

THE KNIGHT SOCIETY.—We are informed that the Knights intends to give a Strawberry Festival, next Tuesday evening, at the Rink. The object—a very laudable one—is to raise means to continue their skating rink; Let all come and bring their friends. We will be a large one.

AUCTION SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.—Attention is called to the advertisement in another column of the sale of valuable property in this city, belonging to the estate of W. Ladd, deceased, which will be made at the auction room, on next Saturday, at 2 o'clock P. M., by A. L. Richardson, auctioneer.

STILL THEY COME.—Large numbers of cattle are still coming to come down the Columbia to Portland and Puget Sound points. Yesterday the Emma Hayward brought down 400 head of sheep and 50 head of cattle. The remaining the past of these cattle will be taken to Salem.

ARRIVAL.—J. H. Babcock, of Corvallis, will arrive at the closing exercises of the Miss Scott Grammar School, on Wednesday, this week.

FOR SEATTLE.—The steamer John L. Stephens will sail for her wharf for San Francisco this evening at 9 o'clock, with passengers and freight.

PERSONAL.

Mr. R. C. Paige, traveling agent for Wells, Fargo & Co., returned from up the Columbia last evening.

Mr. J. H. Stevens, Esq., who was appointed Consul to Amoy a few weeks ago, will take his departure this evening on the steamer John L. Stephens for his destination. He will be accompanied by his young and accomplished wife. At Victoria Mr. Henderson will proceed by steamer to Amoy, while his wife will depart for San Francisco on a visit to her friends and relatives at that place. Now York, and will rejoin her husband after a few months at their new home.

BASE BALL.

Mr. W. K. Witherell has been elected Captain of the Webfoot, one of the Pioneer Club.

The Pacific and Pioneer Clubs play the first game of their series on Saturday, commencing at 3 P. M.

At Waverly, N. J., 20th. Philadelphia 6, Resolute 1. In nine innings the former received 6 runs and the latter 7.

At Baltimore—Geo. Steel, Peter DeHuff, Quackenbush, members of the "Old Pioneers," and W. S. Ladd and W. S. Mason, have been elected honorary members of the Baltimore Club.

The game between the College Club of Salem and the Pioneer Club is off, owing to the declination of the College Club to play a series of games. The latter club may be arrived at to play a single game for the championship.

FOURTH OF JULY COMMITTEE.

In pursuance of the notice given yesterday morning, the Committee of Arrangements met last evening at the Armory Hall.

Col. A. P. Dennison was elected Chairman and R. E. Bybee, Secretary, and the object of the meeting stated. The Chair stated that the City Council had appropriated the sum of $1,500 last year toward defraying the expenses of the celebration. There remained a balance on hand from last year of $256 20, with interest at 6 per cent. Also there were materials on hand from the celebration of last year of about the value of $100, which would aggregate the sum of $1,756 20.

On motion it was resolved that we celebrate the Fourth of July.

On motion it was ordered that an Executive Committee of five be appointed by the Chair to report at the next meeting.

B. G. Whitehouse was elected permanent Secretary and Treasurer of the Committee of Arrangements.

A communication was read from Perry A. Vickers, and laid on the table.

On motion, Messrs Chas. Hodge, A. B. Richardson and E. J. Jeffreys were elected a Committee on Fire Works.

On motion, a Committee on Music was appointed by the Chair, consisting of Messrs. J. B. Wyatt, L. H. Lewis and Shubrick Norris.

On motion, it was ordered that the Chair appoint the other committees and report at the next meeting.

On motion, B. G. Whitehouse was authorized to draw the money now on deposit at the First National Bank, belonging to the Committee of Arrangements.

It was also ordered that the Chairman request the City Council to pay to B. G. Whitehouse any money appropriated to defray the Fourth of July expenses.

A. P. DENNISON, Chairman.
R. E. BYBEE, Secretary.

DOWN THE COLUMBIA.

We are indebted to our agent at Knappton for the following items of interest from down the river:

The Board of Pilot Commissioners for Washington Territory met at this office on the 21st ult., and among other business granted Branches as Bar Pilots to Wm. Boehan, Eli Hilton and Dan Graham. Boehan and Graham have been the pilots of the California steamers for a long time, and are popular and competent pilots. Mr. Hilton has been mate on the tug Astoria since she was put on the Bar, and was on the schooner California, which was superseded by the tug for a number of years, and I believe is equally competent and popular with the former.

These gentlemen have secured and fitted up in the most substantial manner the former Pilot boat —the California—Boehan being Captain and managing owner, and their friends have well-grounded fears that they will hereafter neglect other business and be found at all times hanging around the Columbia river bar, and they propose to stand treat whenever found absent by those requiring their services. Apropos to the foregoing, I would remark that at the present time, Oregon has not a licensed Bar Pilot.

The wagon road from Knappton to the Naselle river is to be pushed forward to early completion, when travel from Shoalwater Bay and vicinity will undoubtedly take the new channel up the Naselle and across to Knappton—the portage being much shorter and the entire distance to Astoria reduced more than one half.

Settlers are steadily coming into and taking claims on the various river bottoms in this section—Gray's River, Deep River, Naselle River, etc. Those having a modicum of energy and perseverance, will have, after a few years, fine farms, while a portion without this requisite will, after a few years, have nothing more than they have to-day. It takes pluck to win in this as well as in any other pursuit.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE REPUBLICAN CITY CO ITT E.

PORTLAND, June 2, 1873.

The Republican City Central Committee met by call of the Chairman at the office of C. W. Parrish, Esq.

The meeting was called to order by L. H. Wakefield, Chairman.

PRESENT—W. W. Spaulding, A. G. Walling, Josiah Failing, C. W. Parrish, James Lotan, and Mr. Chairman.

Absent—A. J. Marshall, O. B. Gibson, C. Bills (deceased).

C. W. Parrish was appointed Secretary.

D. W. Burnside was nominated and elected to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of C. Bills.

On motion adjourned until to-morrow at 2 o'clock P. M.

C. W. PARRISH, Secretary.

SECOND MEETING.

PORTLAND, June 3, 1873.

The Republican City Central Committee met pursuant to adjournment.

The meeting was called to order by the Chairman.

Present—L. H. Wakefield, W. W. Spaulding, Josiah Failing, James Lotan, C. W. Parrish and O. B. Gibson.

Without transacting any business, on motion, adjourned to meet at the call of the Chairman.

C. W. PARRISH, Secretary.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Our readers are referred to several new "ads" in to-day's issue.

Street contracts are done promptly and satisfactorily by Mr. W. H. Batts. His card appears to-day.

Mr. H. C. Morrice, agent for the Rock River Roofing Paper, has a complete assortment of Rogallas, Trimmings and other goods for lodges. His place of business is in Masonic Temple, next to the new postoffice.

WASHINGTON COUNTY COURT PROCEEDINGS.

State vs Eugene Dhondt; charged with assault with a dangerous weapon; pleaded guilty; fined $150; paid.

State vs John Kincade; larceny; plea of guilty; 30 days in the County Jail.

State vs Jacob Dean; perjury; plea of not guilty withdrawn and demurrer filed. Argued and taken under advisement.

Thos. Tongue, administrator, vs Whetstone; motion to confirm report of referee; submitted and taken under advisement.

Adjourned sine die.

If you want the woven wire bed, parlor and bedroom suits, the best spring and pure hair mattresses, go to Hurgren & Shindler.

The public mind has been somewhat agitated with the Modoc war, an occasional marine or railway disaster, and the dull times, and the prospect of buying clothing at a figure not large enough to clean a man to the bedrock. The place has been found where you can buy men and boy's clothing, or gentlemen's furnishing goods, at the very lowest prices. It is at Beck & Waldman's, corner of Front and Washington street, where a full assortment of men and boys' clothing, in the latest styles, can be selected from.

Mr John Kennedy, formerly of the Philadelphia Shoe Store, is now at the San Francisco Shoe Store with Fleischner & Crone, where he will be pleased to wait upon his friends and customers, with one of the largest and finest stocks of boots and shoes on the coast. He will also continue to take measures for ladies' custom-made shoes.

DRESS WELL.—The young man who does not like "make-up" complete should always select the place where the articles desired can be obtained. For a neat-fitting suit, made of the very finest materials, the public is directed to the house of Fishel & Roberts, an establishment which ranks with the leading houses on the coast. The stock is complete, the attention paid to customers, and the promptness with which orders are filled, at once commends this house to all.

The man of enterprise creates, the weak imitator tries to copy him. Does any sensible man suppose that the legions of "Buchus," so-called, that infest the drug stores, possess the real merit of Dr Helmbold's Genuine Extract? Any sufferer from Kidney Complaint, Dropsy, Diabetes, or other urinary diseases, in male or female, will detect the difference at once by the results. Helmbold's cures, the others fail. The genuine bears Dr. Helmbold's signature. John F Henry, New York, Sole Agent.

"TRIED AND TRUE."—What words of trust and confidence are these! It is what many a poor sufferer can say of Helmbold's Buchu. It is the only reliable medicine of those terrible diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs. Beware of counterfeits. The genuine has the private proprietary stamp of H T Helmbold's. Full directions with each bottle. John F Henry, New York, Sole Agent.

A first class photograph is worth a good price. A poor one is of no value whatever. Therefore the motto of Buchtel & Stolte is—Superior work, equal to any in the United States, for which we demand a good price, and receive the same. Our new Viewing Wagon, for Scenic Views, is now ready, and all orders for pictures of buildings, etc., promptly attended to, at the First Premium Gallery, No 91 First street, Portland, Oregon.

If you want pure, fine liquors of any kind, go to E. D. Tyne's, northwest corner of Oak and First streets, agent for the sale of Jessie Moore & Co's fine Old Bourbon and Rye Whiskies of Louisville, Ky.

It is often remarked by strangers visiting our State that we show a larger proportion of good horses than any other State in the Union. This, we tell them, is owing to two principal reasons: in the first place, we breed the very best stock; and in the second place, our people use Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, which in our judgment are of incalculable advantage.

One of Mack's Reminescences of the Convention that Nominated Lincoln for President.

St Louis Democrat.

Since Mr. Charles Francis Adams has seen proper to arraign the friends of Mr. Lincoln for tricking Mr. Seward out of the Chicago nomination in 1860, it may be well to ascertain the truth concerning that important event in the political history of the nation, while the parties who are in possession of the facts are yet alive. If we are not misinformed, there are three prominent gentlemen who can tell all about it if they choose to do so, viz: Hon. E. D. Morgan, who was then Chairman of the Republican National Committee; Hon. David Davis, Judge of the Supreme Court, and Hon. Jesse K. Dubois, of Illinois. Mr. Morgan was a Seward man, and Mr. Lincoln's interest were intrusted to the management of Judge Davis and Mr. Dubois.

The Wigwam in which the convention was held was an immense structure, capable of accommodating thousands of persons besides the delegates, but the crowds assembled at Chicago were so great that only a small portion of those who desired to be present could gain admittance to the hall. Seeing this, the Seward men contrived a shrewd trick for the purpose of giving the friends of Mr. Seward the possession of the hall, so that all manifestations of popular enthusiasm should be on the side of their favorite, and it was decided that no spectators should be allowed to enter without tickets issued from Mr. Morgan's headquarters and distributed by the delegates. In giving out these tickets the Seward delegates were favored to the prejudice of Western men, and the Lincoln men saw that if something was not done to counteract the movement the Wigwam would be packed with Seward's friends. A council of war was held, at which it was resolved that counterfeit tickets of admission should be prepared the evening before the nomination, and when the Wigwam doors were opened the next morning the holders of these tickets swarmed into the hall and crowded all the available space, to the exclusion of most of the Seward men, who had taken a leisurely breakfast, in the perfect confidence that their genuine tickets secured them reserved seats. The result of this was soon manifested. When Lincoln was put in nomination, and Caleb B. Smith, of Indiana, rose to second it, a storm of applause arose from all sides of the hall, while the nomination of Seward failed to evoke the enthusiasm anticipated and arranged for by his friends. The Seward claquers were enjoying the benefit of their reserved seats upon the sidewalks, while the Lincoln men filled the Wigwam with their shouts. Doubtful and wavering delegates could not withstand the tidal wave of the rail-splitter's popularity, and were carried away, while the Seward managers gazed in stupid amazement upon the unexpected denouement. Such is the story as it is told by those who make no secret of having been in the plot by which Mr. Morgan's shrewd designs were circumvented.

m22d3t ALLEN & LEWIS, Consignees.

TO THE TAX-PAYERS OF THE CITY OF PORTLAND.

The Portland Water Company take this method of defining their position on the purchase of their works by the city of Portland:

On the 20th day of April, 1872, this company received a communication from Messrs. W. S. Ladd, J. B. Congle, C. H. Lewis and S. G. Reed, sub committee on water supply, appointed by the Mayor, asking the question:

"Will you dispose of your works to the city of Portland? and if so, you will state price, terms, etc."

Our answer was, we would sell, and the price, three hundred thousand dollars, to be paid as specified.

Again, the Committee on Fire and Water called on us at our office, saying they came in accordance with a resolution passed by the Common Council, on the 5th of February, to confer with us as to the purchase of our works by the city, to ascertain the price, and report to the Council at their earliest convenience. This company named the same price, viz.: $300,000, that had been named to the former committee; two hundred and forty thousand dollars coin, and the city to assume the payment of sixty thousand dollars currency bonds, bearing seven per cent. interest, payable in July, 1880.

The committee made their report to the Common Council on the evening of February 18, 1873, from which report we copy the latter portion, viz.:

"We have been permitted to examine the income of the Water Company, for the years 1870, 1871 and 1872, from rents of water, and from them we learn that the receipts would pay the interest on the bonds, the cost of operating the works, and have a considerable surplus, while the rents could be lowered one fourth the present rates, and still pay rents sufficient to pay interest and cost of operating, this saving to our citizens cheaper water, which is a matter greatly to be desired.

"The increase of population in the city will increase the rents, and cheaper rates will increase the takers, without corresponding increase in the cost of operating; and in the no distant future your Committee believe that the rates can be reduced to one-half the present rates, and still leave a sufficient revenue to pay interest on the bonds and cost of operating, while a small sum can be annually accumulating to form a sinking fund for the redemption of the bonds.

"Under the provisions of our charter nothing can be done in the way of incurring an indebtedness sufficient to purchase or build Water Works by the city until the proposition is submitted to the people at a special election, and by them approved.

"Your Committee therefore recommend that the proposition of the Portland Water Company, for the sale of their Works, rights, &c., &c., be submitted to the people at the coming June election, as provided by charter, for their approval or rejection.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

(Signed) J. B. CONGLE,
J. C. KINGSLEY,
C. H. LEWIS,
Committee on Fire and Water.

The Portland Water Company would respectfully state to the tax payers the fact, that they have not urged the city to purchase our works. We have simply answered in good faith communications from committees appointed by the Mayor and Common Council of this city, as we supposed in good faith on the part of the city, and as a continuance of our willingness to give to the tax payers and the public any information they may desire, in order that they may vote intelligently at the coming June election for or against the purchase of our works by the city, we submit the following abstract from our books for two years, with the probable rates for one year:

ABSTRACT—Water Rates of the Portland Water Company from July 1, 1871, to July 1, 1872.

1871. CONSUMER'S LIST.
July	$ 3,253 84

March	3,269 22
April	3,288 48
May	3,350 00
June	3,664 56
	$39,568 00
From City, County, Gas Company and Schools	2,068 00
From building purposes, street sprinkling, etc.	1,139 00
Total	$42,774 00

From July 1, 1872, to July 1, 1873.

1872. CONSUMER'S LIST.
July	$ 3,784 32
August	3,898 56
September	3,868 44
October	3,424 68
November	3,389 04
December	3,360 84
1873.
January	3,353 64

April	3,361 56
May (estimated)	3,650 00
June (estimated)	3,890 88
	$42,487 44
From City, County, Gas Company and Schools	2,068 00
From building purposes, street sprinkling etc.	1,450 00
Total	$45,968 44

From the foregoing abstracts we submit the following deductions, viz:

	Rates.	Increase.
1872—Rates as per books	$42,774 00
1873—Rates as per books (May and June estimated)	42,968 43	3,190 43
1874—Same ratio of increase	46,000 00	4,034 57
Estimated rates for one year, ending June 30, 1874		50,000 00
Interest on $240,000 bonds at 8 per cent	19,200 00
Interest on $60,000 currency bonds, bearing 7 per cent., coin	3,780 00
Expenses, allowing $1,000 more than present year	6,000 00	30,980 00
Surplus after paying interest and expenses		19,020 00
Rates for 1874, $50,000—25 per cent less than present rates		12,500 00
Surplus after reduction of rates		$6,520 00

The city can run the works, reduce the rates 25 per cent., and leave a balance in favor of the city of six thousand, five hundred and twenty dollars; or, in other words, consumers that now pay $2 per month, can be supplied for $1 50 per month, and others in proportion; and still the city will receive a revenue without taxing the people for water supply.

Any further information desired in relation to the Company's works will be freely given on application at their office.

Respectfully,
THE PORTLAND WATER COMPANY.
H. D. GRANT, President.

For My Sake.

BY HESTER A. BENEDICT.

Mother in the across the mountains, if you sleep or if you wake,
Turn your face this way, I pray you, just a moment, for my sake;
For the winds are going westward, let by spirits sweet and fair,
And I send them my kisses for the silver of your hair.

I have told them what I whisper in your ear and to your heart,
Of the joy, in my life has learned to since we journeyed far apart,
Of the sweet rain and of the sunshine beating here and thud-
Of the rose and the rain, of the passion and the prayer

But I think if I could find you by the lifting of my hand,
All the burden that I'm bearing you would better understand;
And I trust he you could tell me, as none other tells in song,
Why to-night, my arms are empty—why my life is empty, too.

I am calling, calling to you! And the night is calm and still!
Can you hear my crying, mother, hear and heed it, if you will?
I am tired of the farce of life, of the mask I wear,
Of the purple of the velvet that can cover only care

And I want your arms to hold me as they held me long ago,
Ere my head and heart were handled by the fingers of the snow,
Want to be and watch the sunrise, with the lilies of my face
Changed to roses, in the heaven of my long-lost resting-place

Ah, who would learn to laughter from such recompense as mine
For its mockery of manna—for its mockery of wine!
But I cannot find your bosom, and you cannot hear my call,
And another day is dawning in the old way—that is all.

Joaquin Miller's New Book.

In the London Standard of May 1, appears the subjoined notice of Joaquin Miller's new book "Songs of the Sun-Lands." We have always had faith in Miller's genius; we feel a sort of personal pride in watching his growth:

A year ago Mr. Joaquin Miller came, an utter stranger, from America to England, and entrusted his first poem to the impartial judgment of a British public. This poem was first noticed in our columns with considerable praise, which was soon echoed in the leading reviews of England and America. We have good reason to trust that this second effort of Mr. Miller's muse will be received, as it deserves, with a like enthusiasm in England and America. With the exception of the smaller and sacred poems, called "Olive Leaves" on Bethlehem, Faith, Hope, and Charity, and such kindred subjects, this volume consists of scenes and adventures which carry us back to the woods and mountains of Western America, the birthland of the poet, who has sung, as a genuine poet only can sing, with the highest gifts of sensibility and fancy, of the sun-filled seas, of the magnificent mountains, of the splendors of tropical suns, and the magic of the tropical moonlight of his birthland—who has sung the loves, the hates, the lawless passions, the feasts, and the marriages of [illegible] and outlaws, attracted from the four quarters of the winds to California in their greed for gold; of ancient tribes of Indians, whose cradle is hidden in the mists of a far antiquity, and who are fast becoming phantoms of the past before the advancing step and the strong hand of whites races, who are building their homes upon their graves; and sung too the confusion, the turmoil of the scenes described by the singer which are the crowning [illegible] of the realities which inspired his song. No poetry of the present age has any claim to the unconventional freedom, the supreme independence, the spontaneity, the bold and vigorous originality, the all-pervading passion, the unresting energy, and the prodigal wealth of imagery which stamp the poetry before us. If, however, there is one peculiarity more than another which marks off the muse of Mr. Miller from others, it is the inexhaustible wealth of his fancy, giving of his wealth largely and lavishly, like "rich men who care not how they give;" it is the variety and clearness of the pictures he paints as with a sunbeam on the tablets of our mind. Mr. Miller's topographical descriptions of the Far West appear to be nothing less than perfect photographs taken on the spot by the hands of a consummate artist, and it would be difficult to avoid quoting this in any complete guide-book to all the grandeurs and glories of the country. Here is an impressive and powerful picture of Columbia scenery, which we take at random, almost at the opening of the first poem:

"See once Columbia's scenes, then roam no more;
No more for weeks on earth to entranced eyes;
The cataract's down, a broken roar,
The pines are dead, gray, and rise
Gray as a ghost and dark against the clouded skies.
The canyon thaws, a with its fill of snow
And calls [illegible] and all the [illegible] echoes;
The mounts make it fleet ship and dwell at home
In snowy brotherhood beneath their purpled cone.

"The rainbow swims in circles round, and rise
Against the bending granite walls till lost
In drifting dreamy clouds and dappled skies,
A grand mosaic interwined and tossed
Along the mighty canyon, hi gh and proud
By storms of everlasting birds of sea and land;
The salmon leaps below, bright red and bossed
In silver. Tawny, tall, on either hand
You see the savage sportsman nude and silent stand,

"Here sweep the wide wild waters cold and white
And blue in their far depths; divided now
By islands with pines so still and high
As bowers nodding from the painted brow
That lifts and lures from out the lowest prow,
Ashore you hear the peg [illegible] at play;
The curl of smoke comes from under [illegible] the bough,
Of leaning fir, the wife looks far away
And sees a swift sweet bark divide the dancing spray.

"Slow drift adown the river's [illegible] sip,
And look above; lo, colossal woods! the snow!
The rivers [illegible] and the brink not leap
From rest to life [illegible] flood below,
And land always on tops of fire that grow
Against your sail, [illegible] ing peak, they play,
In clouds, each loud and [illegible] and slow,
A thor and thunder tones; they swing and sway
In idle winds, long [illegible] long shafts of shining spray."

Since Mr. Miller's first essay in metre his verse has much improved in volume and in distinct cadence, though here and there we do meet with verses which seem to set at defiance all the laws of prosody, all the principles of good taste. The great vanity of our poet's sins in this matter (for we must—I honestly will his sins as with his virtues) is his rhyming Cyrene with Queen, from an evident misapprehension that Cyrene was a dissyllabic word. Had this singer been an Irishman we might have facetiously set down as "a bull" his placing of "the winged bull" beside the brazen gates of Babylon, where Nineveh would have been more true to the facts of history. The "apt art of alliteration," skillfully used as it is by the most accomplished of our poets to give to the ear a sound that echoes the sense, or to fill it with unexpected music and delight, is an art that we must admire. But we fear that Mr. Miller uses it rather too lavishly for his own good fame, and at times lowers the tone of his verses to a strain of empty prettiness, which pall on the ear and cannot fill it from their very vacancy.

In the "Songs of the Sierras" there was much to remind the reader of Byron's passion, though nothing to remind us of Byron's morbid misanthropy and persistent self-idolatry. In these more recent songs we have less of Byron's passion, although Byron's type of the Spenserian stanza is evidently the model of the versification of the larger and more ambitious poems, such as "The Sun Down Seas" and "The Isles of the Amazons," while the "Olive Leaves" after a fashion follow "The Hebrew Melodies" of Byron. In the other poems the metres of Swinburne have had a perceptible influence in moulding the measure of the verse. In "Sierras Adios" this tendency to imitation is the more marked, not only in the metre, but in the manner—as in such characteristic expressions as "the body of her" for the ordinary formula "her body." That Mr. Miller is gifted with no stint of dramatic power and the art of delineating character, his "Songs of the Sierras" abundantly prove. In his present volume we are permitted to catch fitful glimpses only of this great and charming gift. Poorer in incident and characterization, poorer in his pictures of men, he has become richer in emotion, and in the delineation of scenery—richer, too, in his pictures of nature. Many of his types of character are cast in the old mould, and colored with the old colors. But the exuberance of his fancy never stagnates, the power of his pencil in depicting scenery never fails. The riches of his imagination never runs dry. Like Mr. Browning, he takes his metaphors from all kinds of objects, in heaven above, or earth beneath, grand or grovelling, beautiful or base, but they are always apt, always striking, always original. Like the sun in the Heavens he bathes the mountains as the dunghill in the glow of his splendors. The former poems, "Olive Leaves," have a peculiar charm and tender grace, though their quiet beauty is sadly marred occasionally with the most characteristic of their author's faults. The sweetness and charity of their tone may be gleaned from such appeals to our better nature and kindlier feelings as these:

"Ay, forgive as you would be forgiven;
Ay, forget, lest the ill you have done
Be remembered against you in heaven
And all the days under the sun."

For further specimens of Mr. Miller's present poems we must send our readers to the volume itself, which is, with all its faults, a very garden of delight, adorned everywhere as it is with the fairest blooms of fancy, and breathing everywhere as it does of the sweetest and purest inspirations of the muse.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

TUESDAY EVENING, June 3, 1873.

Gold in New York today, 110⅞.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 85 buying; 90 selling.

Gold bars are quotable at 109 fine.

Wheat in Liverpool—Average Californa, 12s 2d@12s 4½ d[illegible], 12s 6d.

The first of the month found our local finances in an undoubtedly improved condition over the state of affairs existing for two prior months. Collections found less difficulty, as a general thing, in obtaining debts pending, and merchants feel encouraged by the favorable outlook.

We hear of arrangements being made to secure the introduction of quite a large sum of money into our State for investment, and trust that our informant is correct, as such an event would tend very materially in developing the resources of our State, and thus instead as recurrence of the stringency of which we have had such a long and severe siege. The lack of capital is at present a drawback on the entire Northwest coast. The quartz mills of Eastern Oregon and Idaho and Washington Territory, we believe, are comparatively worthless, a product, on no other account but this, the miners have not the means to develop them. Large tracts of rich land adapted to agricultural purposes lie unfitted for the same reason. And this state of affairs will continue unless we can secure capital from abroad, as that in the country now is only sufficient to carry on the legitimate business and enterprises already on hand. We know that the advantages offered here will ultimately attract the means to improve them towards this country, but to hasten that day is an object worthy of the consideration of all who wish to see the dawn of an era of prosperity on these shores.

The English Wheat Crop.

The Mark Lane Express of May 5th presents rather a gloomy account of the condition and prospects of the British wheat trade, owing to the long continuance of unfavorable crop weather, though at the close there had been a change for the better. The following extract is of interest:

In England it is calculated that 500,000 acres were thrown upon spring culture, much of which has never been sown, while a large proportion of that planted in autumn rotted off through the long continuance of wet, leaving the surviving plants in a weekly condition, while there is but poor outlook for the barley. We have therefore especial need of an equable season to sustain the moderate promise now on the land, as it is pretty certain we shall have next to nothing to begin with. Belgium has followed France in the advance of prices as well as Holland and Hungary, and the German markets have caught that way. Indeed a continental demand has sprung up for floating cargoes, a cargo of California wheat being taxed for Havre at 46s 9d, with higher rates subsequently demanded. But since the opening of the canals at New York, the value of wheat has receded, though very likely to be partially recovered on report of the general advance here. Reports from the continent since the favorable change in the weather are less unfavorable to the crop than during the frost.

Home Produce Market.

The present week so far has with and but a limited amount of transactions in this line, and prices have been steady in all articles of home produce. The shipments by the outgoing steamer for San Francisco to-morrow will not equal the average in quantity, as the low prices at present ruling in that city do not justify the movement in that direction.

WHEAT.—We shall probably receive but little more of last year's crop before harvest, though there are probably not less than 150,000 bushels yet in the interior to come. Dealers here are paying $1 55 per cental for choice lots.

FLOUR.—The Peerless will soon have received her 10,000 barrels for the China market; the San Francisco steamer will carry several thousand sacks, while the demand from ports to the northward is fair. Hence prices are firmly without any change, though perhaps rather easier.

OATS.—The market is dull and jobbers pay 55 cents per bushel, in sacks.

BARLEY.—The local [illegible] and is fair at $1 40@1 60 per cwt.

HAY.—For good timothy prices are maintained at $14 per ton for loose, $16 baled.

POTATOES.—Market dull and quotations nominal at 35@45 cents per bushel.

HIDES.—The receipts are large and the market well [illegible] with all qualities. Prices range from 1 to 2 cents.

EGGS.—Low rates ruling in San Francisco make weak market here, though 16 cents per dozen is still paid.

BACON.—There is some feeling noticed in the market, but no appreciable advance in prices.

HOPS.—The first ship cargo of the season have been large and buyers have been firm and stiff are from at current rates. We quote green at 23@27c per pound; sailed, 8; dry at 15@16c.

WOOL.—There is more inquiry among buyers, but growers are backward in making sales, or the spring clip is late on account of the cold weather. Prices seem to change but little from day to day and shippers will not offer no more than 20 cents per pound as the average, but choice lots ought to command more.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship John L. Stephens is to day receiving cargo at the Eastside wharf. She sails to-morrow evening at 9 o'clock.

The Ajax is due to-night from San Francisco, but up to 12, midnight, had not been telegraphed.

There is no movement of sailing vessels in port since our last report.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]
